RESPONSE OF MINNESOTA CITIZENS CONCERNED
FOR LIFE COMMITTEE FOR A PRO-LIFE CONGRESS
AND JACQUELINE A. SCHWIETZ, ITS TREASURER

Comes now Jacqueline A. Schwietz, under oath, her own behalf and on behalf of Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life Committee for a Pro-Life Congress and hereby responds to the Subpoena to Produce Documents and Order to Submit Written Answers of the Federal Election Commission, as follows:

INTERROGATORIES

1. State whether any officer, director, employee or consultant of Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life Committee for a Pro-Life Congress ("MCCL PAC") communicated in 1992 with Paul Coverdell or any officer, director, employee, or consultant of Paul Coverdell's 1992 U.S. Senate campaign. If so, for each communication, identify all persons involved, state the date or approximate date of the communication, and describe the purpose of the communication.

Answer: No.

2. State whether any officer, director employee or consultant of MCCL PAC communicated in 1992 with any officer, director, employee, or consultant of the National Republican Senatorial Committee including but not limited to, Curt Anderson, Paul Curcio, Enoch Ebong, Jeb Hensarling, and Phil Gramm. If so, for each communication, identify all persons involved, state the date of approximate date of the communication, and describe the purpose of the communication.

Answer: No.

3. State whether any, officer, director, employee or consultant of MCCL PAC communicated in 1994 with Rod Grams or any officer, director, employee, or consultant of Rod Grams' 1994 Senate campaign. If so, for each communication, identify all persons involved, state the date or approximate date of the communication, and describe the purpose of the communication.

Answer: No.

4. State whether any officer, director employee or consultant of MCCL PAC communicated in 1994 with any officer, director, employee, or consultant of the National Republican Senatorial Committee, including, but not limited to, Paul Curcio, Liz Owen, William Harris, David Carney and Phil Gramm. If so, for each communication, identify all persons involved, state the date or approximate date of the communication, and describe the purpose of the communication.

Answer: No.

5. Identify all MCCL PAC officers, directors, employees, consultants or volunteers who were involved in any way in MCCL Pac's contributions to, and independent expenditures on behalf of, Paul Coverdell in 1992. Briefly describe each person's role.

Answer: Jackie Schwietz and Mary Schmit. Jackie Schwietz wrote the checks and Mary Schmit had knowledge of the checks.

6. Identify all MCCL PAC officers, directors, employees, consultants or volunteers who were involved in any way in MCCL PAC's contributions to, and independent expenditures on behalf of, Rod Grams in 1994. Briefly describe each person's role.

Answer: Jackie Schwietz, Marice Rosenberg, Mary Schmit, Ruby Kubista, Tam Helmin, Kathi Roberts and Christina Diaz. Jackie Schwietz, Marice Rosenberg and Mary Schmit planned the contribution and independent expenditure. Ruby Kubista and Kathi Roberts planned the literature drop. Tam Helmin did the art work. Christina Diaz bought the ad space.

7. Identify all vendors or other person involved in the GOTV phone calling for Rod Grams for which MCCL PAC made reimbursements to the MCCL General Fund on November 17, 1994 (see Attachment 1).

Answer: Life-Tel and Optima.

8. Identify the source of the list(s) use in the GOTV phone calls conducted by or on behalf of MCCL PAC for Rod Gram's 1994 U.S. Senate election in Minnesota.

Answer: lists rented from MCCL.

PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS

1. Produce all documents that in any way contain, or refer or relate to, any communication in 1992 between any officer, director, employee or consultant of MCCL PAC and any officer, director, employee or consultant of the National Republican Senatorial Committee, including but not limited to, Curt Anderson, Paul Curcio, Enoch Ebong, Jeb Hensarling and Phil Gramm.

Response: None.

2. Produce all documents that in any way contain, or refer or relate to, any communication in 1992 between any officer, director, employee and consultant of MCCL PAC and Paul Coverdell or any officer, employee or consultant of the Paul Coverdell's 1992 U.S. Senate campaign.

Response: Attachment A.

3. Produce all documents that in any way contain, or refer or relate to, any communication in 1994 between any officer, director, employee or consultant of MCCL PAC and any officer, director, employee or consultant of the National Republican Senatorial Committee, including but not limited to, Paula Curcio, William Harris, David Carney, Phil Gramm and Liz Owen.

Response: None.

4. Produce all documents that in any way contain, or refer or relate to, any communication in 1994 between any officer, director, employee or consultant of MCCL PAC and Rod Grams or any officer, director, employee or consultant of Rod Grams' 1994 U.S. Senate campaign.

Response: None.

MCCL NEWS

September, 1994

State House candidates give views on life issues

Every election year since 1972, MCCL has polled those seeking to represent Minnesotans in public office on their attitudes toward the life issues. The survey is an effort to help inform citizens so they can better participate in the democratic process by basing judgments on factual information about candidates' stands, rather than relying on hearsay or rumor.

Responses from those seeking seats in the Minnesota House and Senate begin on page 2, along with a Response Key explaining abbreviations used in the charts.

Candidates were told that answers would be classified as Yes, No, or No Response and that space would not allow printing of comments. However, all comments are kept on file at the MCCL state office.

Candidates were asked the following questions. A short explanation follows each question.

1. Would you vote for a law that would prevent the use of abortion as a means of birth control?

Abortion is being used extensively as a method of birth control. This means it is used for the same reasons one would employ other means of birth control, such as contraceptives or natural family planning — to limit or space children, to avoid interference with a career or education, or any of a variety of other motives which involve the desire to avoid having any child at a particular time.

These children's lives could be saved with legislation to prevent the use of abortion for birth control reasons. For purposes of clarity and enforceability, such abortions would be defined as those not done to preserve the life of the mother, in cases of rape and incest, grave health damage to the mother, or serious disability to the child.

2. Would you vote against any attempt to pass the so-called "Freedom of Choice" Act?

The Freedom of Choice Act would, for the first time, write a radical pro-abortion position into Minnesota statute and preclude any reasonable regulations of abortion. If passed, this legislation would make Minnesota abortion law one of the most extreme in the country.

3. Would you vote against any attempt to weaken or rescind the Minnesota legislation passed in 1981 which provides for notification of parents before a minor is given an abortion?

The Minnesota Parental Notification law was passed by large margins in the Minnesota legislature in 1981. Under the law, both parents have a right to be notified if their minor daughter wishes to have an abortion. A judicial bypass exists for minors to get a judge's approval to not inform her parents.

Efforts to weaken the law have included informing other "trusted adults" and not the parents; and limiting notification to a single parent, even though both parents remain responsible if the child is injured in the procedure.

4. Would you vote for a MCCL-sponsored "informed consent" law requiring that doctors provide women with information on the development of the unborn child, alternatives to abortion, and medical risks of abortion before an abortion can be performed?

Informed consent protects the rights of women by assuring them the level of informed consent that would be their right if they underwent any other medical procedure. MCCL will continue to work to pass this legislation.

5. Would you vote against any attempt to weaken or rescind the Minnesota law passed in 1978 which prevents the use of government funding for abortion other than to prevent the death of the mother, when the pregnancy is the result of forcible rape (reported to law enforcement agencies within 2 days), or when the pregnancy of a minor is the result of incest (with the perpetrator reported to law enforcement agencies)?

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that the use of public funds for abortions is not constitutionally required. In 1978, an MCCL-supported bill to restrict the use of state funds for abortions received overwhelming approval.

The Minnesota law was successfully challenged by pro-abortion advocates in 1993 in the state courts. Pending appeal, the law is not in force.

6. Would you vote to exclude abortion from any list of "standard benefits" whether defined by the legislature, a health commissioner, or any state agency under a state health plan?

The Minnesota Legislature is currently working on a state health care plan. The MinnesotaCare bill, as it is called, calls for the same minimum package of health care benefits for all residents. Unfortunately, pro-abortion groups such as Planned Parenthood are actively lobbying to include abortion as a mandated benefit in this minimum package of benefits.

7. Would you vote against any attempt to weaken or rescind the Minnesota law passed in 1992 which includes assisting suicide or attempted suicide among prohibited practices and authorizes disciplinary action for physicians and other health care professionals? The law also allows relatives or others affected by an attempted suicide or completed suicide, as well as public officials, to sue the person who "assists" for money damages.

In 1992 the Minnesota Legislature passed a bill to tighten state law against assisted suicide. The law makes it clear that the public policy of the state is to discourage suicide and to prevent health care professionals from assisting in it.

8. Do you oppose rationing of lifesaving medical treatment as a means of cost control?

During past sessions, the Minnesota Legislature has passed bills setting up a state health care plan. As currently written, the MinnesotaCare program could ration needed health care by covering only treatment that is "necessary" and "appropriate." This policy may discriminate target the disabled, the elderly, and the chronically ill for the withdrawing or withholding of treatment based on someone else's determination that the person's "quality of life" is not satisfactory.

Primary Election Tuesday, Sept. 13

WHO WILL DEFEND INNOCENT BABIES?

☐ NATALIE HAAS STEFFEN WON'T.

- Natalie Haas Steffen supports abortion rights. (Star Tribune 4/30/94)
- Natalie Haas Steffen is endorsed by numerous pro-abortion groups, including the Women's Campaign Fund, the National Women's Political Caucus, the Minnesota Women's Political Caucus and the GOP Feminists for Choice. (Haas Steffen memo 4/19/94)

☒ TAD JUDE WILL.

- ★ Tad Jude supports legal protection for the lives of unborn children.
- ★ Tad Jude opposes abortion as a method of birth control.
- ★ Tad Jude will continue to vote against spending your tax dollars to pay for abortions.
- ★ Tad Jude has a 100% pro-life voting record during 19 years of public service.
- ★ Tad Jude has been endorsed by the MCCL Committee for a Pro-Life Congress.
- ★ TAD JUDE HAS SERVED WITH HONESTY, HONOR AND DISTINCTION FOR 19 YEARS AS A STATE LEGISLATOR, STATE SENATOR AND HENNEPIN COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

All Minnesotans can participate in this important primary election by voting in the IR primary, Sept. 13th. You do not have to declare any party affiliation before entering the voting booth.

YOU CAN ONLY VOTE ON ONE SIDE OF THE BALLOT (IR OR DFL) OR YOUR BALLOT WILL NOT BE COUNTED AT ALL.

Poll is educational service

Following are responses of candidates for the Minnesota Legislature. You are represented by one state senator and one House member. This year only House members are being elected except for one special election in the Senate which is listed first.

If you don't know your legislative district numbers, call your local city hall or county courthouse (see page 5 for phone numbers). Remember that in the September 13 primary, you can vote only for the candidates of one party. In the November 8 general election, however, you may vote for whichever candidates you wish, regardless of party affiliation.

Your vote counts!

Your vote on September 13 can make the difference between life and death for tens of thousands of Minnesota children.

September 13 is a PRIMARY election. You can vote for the candidates of only one party. You do not have to declare party affiliation before voting, but your ballot will not be counted if you vote for candidates of more than one party.

Independent candidates have no primary. If you consider yourself an independent voter, choose either the DFL or IR Party's primary. In the November 8 general election, you can vote for whichever candidates you choose, regardless of their party affiliation and regardless of which primary you voted in on September 13.

U.S. Senate and House candidates answer survey

Candidates for the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives answered these questions, with the accompanying explanations:

1. Do you support allowing states to enact and enforce Pennsylvania-type regulations, such as mandatory right-to-know laws, mandatory waiting periods, and parental consent requirements?

In its 1992 decision in Casey v. Planned Parenthood, the U.S. Supreme Court reaffirmed the "core holdings" of Roe v. Wade, but modified Roe somewhat to permit states to adopt abortion regulations that do not place any "substantial obstacle" in the path of a woman seeking an abortion. Regulations allowed by the Supreme Court to date include parental notification and consent, woman's right to know and waiting periods.

2. Will you vote against the "Freedom of Choice Act" — and any similar proposals that would limit state authority to place such restrictions on abortion as are permitted by the Supreme Court?

The so-called "Freedom of Choice Act" (FOCA) would invalidate virtually all state limitations on abortion, even those upheld by the Supreme Court in its 1992 Casey decision. As the respected Congressional Quarterly Weekly Report reported in its December 11, 1993 edition, "Among the most controversial provisions [of the FOCA] are those that would prohibit restrictions on third-trimester abortions, overturn several states' requirements that teenagers obtain the consent of one or both parents before having an abortion and prohibit 24-hour waiting periods."

3. If given the opportunity would you vote in favor of the original Hyde Amendment, in order to prohibit federal funding of abortion, except to save the mother's life?

Prior to 1977, the Medicaid program paid for abortion on demand — 300,000 a year. Since 1977, Congress has prohibited funding for almost all abortions by annual enactment of the "Hyde Amendment." From 1981 until 1993, the Hyde Amendment permitted federal funding of abortion only to save the mother's life. As modified in 1993, funding is also permitted in cases of rape or incest.

4. Would you vote in favor of denying U.S. foreign aid funds for abortions, and for organizations that promote abortion in foreign nations?

The U.S. has always been the largest financial donor to family planning programs in less-developed nations. Under the Reagan and Bush administrations, these funds were channeled away from several large organizations that "actively promote abortion as a method of family planning" or that support programs that rely on compulsory abortion (such as China's population-control program). However, the Clinton Administration has overturned these pro-life restrictions, and has restored funding to organizations that promote abortion as a method of population control.

5. Would you vote to explicitly eliminate abortion from any list of "standard benefits" — whether defined by Congress, a "National Health Board," or any other federal agency — under a national health plan?

President Clinton has asked Congress to include abortion on demand as a "guaranteed benefit" under his proposed national health system. This would nullify all current federal and state restrictions on tax funding of abortion on demand and force employers and taxpayers to pay for abortions. MCCL advocates that Congress explicitly exclude abortion from any government-mandated "benefits package" under the Clinton plan or any other national health plan.

6. Will you oppose the Clinton health plan or any other proposed plan that would allow the denial of treatment based on whether or not it will "enhance the quality of life" of the patient?

Under the Clinton health care bill, health plans would effectively allow the denial of treatment when, in the words of the First Lady, it will not "enhance or save the quality of life." MCCL opposes discriminatory targeting of the disabled, the elderly, and the chronically ill for the withdrawing or withholding of treatment based on someone else's determination that the patient's "quality of life" is not satisfactory.

7. Do you oppose rationing of lifesaving medical treatment as a means of cost control?

Today, some people feel that other priorities are more important than lifesaving medical care and that we should ration health care in order to cut costs. The pro-life movement has always opposed euthanasia as well as abortion and infanticide. We regard the rationing of lifesaving medical treatment as a form of involuntary euthanasia.

8. Will you defend the First Amendment rights of issue-oriented groups, such as National Right to Life PAC, to continue to conduct "independent expenditure" campaigns that support or oppose candidates for federal office, and will you oppose devices such as government-mandated "compensation" that would chill or curb political free speech by citizens and citizen groups?

Current federal law allows an organization that advocates a point of view on particular issues — for example, abortion — to form a political action committee. The courts have ruled that such PACs may conduct unlimited "independent expenditures" in support of (or opposition to) candidates for federal office. However, major "campaign reform" bills under consideration in Congress attempt to evade these court rulings by attaching penalties to the use of independent expenditures — for example, by giving publicly-funded TV time to the

by Leo LaLonde
MCCL President

Every once in a while, we in the pro-life movement encounter people who believe in the pro-life cause, but may be persuaded to vote against that conviction because of party loyalty or agreement with a pro-abortion candidate on other issues.

I heard from a man recently who said: "I'm pro-life — I'm with you on that issue all the way. But I probably will vote for Arne Carlson [a pro-abortion candidate with a pro-life opponent] in the primary. You see, I'm not a single-issue voter."

This man is not with me "all the way."

Unfortunately, he has accepted the common stigma attached to people who are "single-issue voters." We have a "one-track mind" and are obsessed with one issue at the expense of all the others; we're unwilling to compromise on one issue, so we're not concerned with getting the best government officials.

I beg to differ. Granted, abortion is just one issue, and we should be concerned with other affairs. But that is no excuse for having misplaced priorities. Abortion kills children. For those of us informed enough to know this, the pro-life issue should be so important that other issues pale in comparison.

For those who say there are more important issues, like crime in the streets and deterioration of schools, let me ask this: How does society tell a 15-year-old in one of our cities that it's wrong to kill when society's leaders themselves tolerate killing on a massive scale? How do we teach a student to be hard-working and responsible when the law condones the most irresponsible human behavior of all: creating a new human being only to kill it because it is not convenient.

Along with abortion has come less respect for life and marked increases in crime and child abuse. We're not going to reverse these trends by voting for a candidate because they will "reduce our taxes," "reform government" or make other promises, important as they may be.

We need elected officials who demonstrate moral direction in their outlook on life. Whether or not a candidate is pro-life is about as good a barometer of their moral direction as you're likely to find. You see, the fact that a candidate is pro-life doesn't just tell you that he or she respects the sanctity of human life. It reveals much more about that candidate's ability to function well in office. Analyzing the conclusions a candidate draws about abortion provides valuable insight on how he or she will address other important issues.

If a candidate thinks government should continue to condone the slaughter of helpless unborn children, then how can he or she possibly be trusted to protect our rights and interests on other issues?

If a candidate is pro-life, we know that he or she has a respect and compassion for humanity that someone who looks the other way on abortion doesn't show. In other words, we know the pro-life candidate has a good moral compass.

We know that the pro-life candidate has the logic and reasoning ability necessary to cut through all the deceptive rhetoric surrounding abortion and find the truth, and that he or she is willing to stand up to people who are wrong and fight for what is right, rather than what is politically expedient.

We know that this candidate is more concerned with the future than with trying to find quick fixes to difficult problems.

We know that he or she is not silenced when the other government officials, party leaders, and the media say a case is closed and no further debate or discussion of the issue is necessary.

These are all qualities that make good elected representatives. Analysis of someone's views about abortion is an excellent device to gauge his or her qualifications to lead a state or a nation. Someone with the ability, drive and desire to fight for government's most important purpose — the protection of human lives — is someone more qualified than the candidate who defends the hands that shed innocent blood for money.

If a candidate thinks government should continue to condone the slaughter of helpless unborn children, then how can he or she possibly be trusted to protect our rights and interests on other issues?

Every day in America, 4400 unborn babies are sentenced to death by our current laws and leaders. I believe some of their blood splashes on our hands if we refuse the opportunity to cast a vote for saving them. No other political issue is worth this much. We need to vote pro-life not only when the pro-life candidate just happens to be the one we like best for other reasons, but every single time we step into the voting booth.

Children are dying. Our whole history and heritage tells us this has to be our priority. Law professor, philosopher and Federal Appeals Judge John Noonan once wrote: "Once or twice in a century an issue arises . . . so far-reaching in its consequences, and so deep in its foundations, that it calls every person to take a stand." Abortion, like slavery, is one of those issues. Our vigilance in voting only for pro-life candidates can literally be the difference between victory and defeat, between life and death.

Congress moves toward showdown on health care

As the health care debate escalates, Congress is moving towards a showdown on the inclusion of abortion in the mandated benefits package of a national health care reform package. As the debate continues, more and more details about the Gephardt-Mitchell/Clinton abortion plan emerge, showing that it is the most radical and extreme abortion proposal ever to face Congress, a fact that both the pro-abortion and pro-life forces recognize. According to R.A. Zaldivar, reporter for Knight-Ridder newspapers, "Abortion rights advocates and abortion opponents agree that Clinton's bill would greatly expand the availability of abortion... 'In terms of the watershed event of the '90s, it's somewhere up near Roe v. Wade," said Jane Johnson, executive vice president of Planned Parenthood. Abortion rights supporters believe that over time, the bill would make abortion services part of the fabric of medical care in the United States, as unremarkable as tonsillectomy." ["Health Bill is Watershed for Abortion," R.A. Zaldivar, health reporter for Knight-Ridder Newspapers, June 22, 1994.]

There is strong opposition to the extreme abortion proposals contained in the Gephardt-Mitchell/Clinton bill. A USA Today/CNN/Gallup Poll, published in the June 30, 1994 USA Today, found that 59% of Americans were opposed to including abortion in the basic benefits package. A University of Cincinnati poll found that 68.5% of all Americans were opposed to including abortion in the basic benefits package.

Because of such strong opposition to these provisions, the Clinton Administration and key pro-abortion congressional leaders are trying to make the bill seem less objectionable than it actually is.

When Is A Compromise Not A Compromise?

The pro-abortion lobby has fabricated a sham "compromise," referred to as the "individual opt out" or the "individual conscience clause." Under the "opt-out"

policy, which has been endorsed by Planned Parenthood, abortion would remain in the federally mandated benefits package. However, individual pro-life citizens would be able in some fashion to "opt-out" of abortion coverage.

However, even with this "opt-out" provision, the Gephardt-Mitchell/Clinton bill would mandate vast expansion of abortion facilities and federal funding for abortion on demand. Under the Gephardt-Mitchell/Clinton bill, the law requires that abortion be part of the mandatory federal benefits package - which means that every working American and every employer would be required to pay for abortion on demand with taxes and health premiums.

The bills would contain at least four pro-abortion mandates - all of which radically change the current state of abortion:

THE EMPLOYER PREMIUM MANDATE: All employers, with the possible exception of some church institutions, would be required by law to pay for abortion on demand.

THE ABORTION CLINIC MANDATE: The bills require that all federally guaranteed benefits - including abortion - be uniformly available across the nation and readily accessible within each service region in the state. This is a federal mandate for health plans to create many hundreds of new abortion clinics in communities that do not now have them, even going so far as to authorize federal funds to establish the new facilities to provide federally guaranteed benefits - including abortion - in the "underserved" areas. The Alan Guttmacher Institute, the research arm of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, recently released a list of cities where abortion "services" are "needed." St. Cloud, Minnesota was one of the cities, and therefore, a prime target for a federally mandated clinic.

THE STATE LAW PRE-EMPTION MANDATE: This bill would preclude states from passing any protective legislation, such as waiting periods. In addition, the bill would nullify state laws, such as parental notification, limits on third trimester abortions, laws prohibiting abortions by non-physicians and many others.

THE TAX-FUNDED ABORTION MANDATE: Tax-funded abortion on demand would be extended to over 40% of the population. This would compel all taxpayers to subsidize the abortion industry.

Pro-life Governor Robert Casey (D-PA) offered the following assessment of the so-called "compromise:" "The so-called compromise which is beginning to surface - that individuals be given the option to 'opt-out,' that is, to buy health care coverage that does not include abortion - is no compromise at all. It is a sham. A vote for a bill that contains this sham "compromise" opt-out provision would leave intact a drastic and radical new federal system which would increase dramatically the numbers of new abortion clinics and facilities in the areas of the country which do not have them now, including extension into so-called "underserved" rural areas, also at taxpayers' expense; and would force nearly all employers to pay for abortions."

The debate over health care reform and the abortion inclusion are reaching the final, critical stages. It is imperative that every pro-life Minnesotan make their voice heard in Washington D.C. Call your Representative and Senator today to tell them that you do not want abortion to be included in any health care reform.

Netherlands experience may be augury of what could face Americans under Clinton health "reform"

Nat Hentoff is a syndicated columnist.
Reprinted with permission.

Despite the continuing debate in Congress, on talk radio, in the press and in our homes, the key element of the Clinton health plan — less health care ahead — is still seldom mentioned.

One exception is Rep. Nancy Johnson of Connecticut, who is unusually knowledgeable and logical about medical matters. She points out that if government-controlled health reforms are based on "managing costs rather than managing care," every medical decision will be determined by how much the care costs.

The Clinton plan will push most Americans into "managed care" programs, where choice of doctors will be limited to those enrolled in the plan. And those doctors — as is already the case in these programs — will get more money if they recommend fewer tests for their patients. Tests cost money that "managed care" management would have to pay for.

There may be an augury of what could face Americans under the Clinton health care "reform." A currently very popular television series in the Netherlands is called A Matter of Life and Death. Cosponsored by the Dutch Ministry of Health, the show asks the studio audience to vote on which of two patients should receive lifesaving treatment in that country, where, as in America, there is great urgency to cut health costs.

The patients pleading for life are not actors. They are all too real. In a recent broadcast, as reported by the International Anti-Euthanasia Task Force, "both were female, both wanted to be treated with an expensive new drug which could prolong their lives." Both had been treated for cancer, which was spreading.

Violet Falkenburg, the host, dutifully told the audience that, actually, doctors would make the decision on which of the two women would be condemned to death. However, the enthusiasm of the viewing audience for having, even vicariously, the power to end one life and save another, was not diminished. The results of the studio audience's vote was shown to the country on a flashing electronic scoreboard.

A spokeswoman for the Dutch Ministry of Health — according to Andrew Kelly in the Chicago Tribune ("Audience Plays Solomon in Dutch Show") — was quite honest in saying why the government was cosponsoring the show: "Our goal was to make people think about health care costs, how important they are, and where choices must be made."

Hypothetically, as the thrust to cut health costs increases in this country while the population also increases, one of the television networks might try our own version of A Matter of Life and Death. To underscore the seriousness of the program — along with the excitement of deciding who lives and who dies — Larry King could be hired to preside over this most dramatic of game shows.

What should be remembered about the Clinton health plan is that it does not focus on the well-being of the individual patient. Its emphasis is on the economic well-being of the nation. This creates a fundamental conflict for some physicians and hospitals. They are told to keep costs down, but are they to be primarily caregivers or are they essentially working to cut the government's deficit? A growing number of doctors already in "managed care" wish they were not, but they see no future for them on the outside.

Whether it's kidney dialysis or a bypass operation for someone who might not live more than five years after the operation, the extent of individual care — under Clinton's reforms — is very likely to be keyed to priorities beyond his or her control.

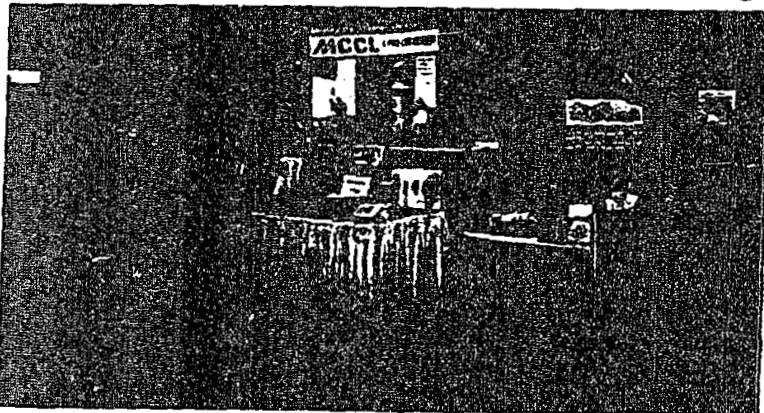

The president, in answer to a question by NBC's Tom Brokaw, has said that there are "a lot of extra costs" in medical care during the last stages of life. Therefore, he went on, more Americans should sign living wills because that is "one way to weed some of them out."

Some of them may be us.

However, as U.S. News and World Report pointed out "The point of a living will is to give the signer autonomy over medical treatment — not a way to die early and save money for a fiscally strapped government."

Some of us may not be prepared to be "weeded out" for the cost benefit of our country. What the Clinton health reform plan may be leading us toward is a "duty to die" when we are old or very sick. And especially if we are in both of those inconvenient categories — and poor.

MCCL Goes to National Right to Life Convention

MCCL's booth at the National Right to Life Convention was one of the most popular because of the wealth of educational materials it distributed to pro-lifers from across the country.

Candace Hauge, winner of the MCCL State Oratory Contest, took second place honors in the National Pro-Life Oratory Contest, held in conjunction with the National Right to Life Committee's annual convention held in Houston, June 30 - July 2. A student of Falls High School in International Falls, Candace, pictured here with her mother, Carol, received a $1,000 scholarship check.

Tapes of the convention seminars are available from the MCCL state office (612) 825-6831.

News Briefs

RU-486 Boycott Launched

As reported in the June/July MCCL News, Roussel Uclaf, the parent company that produces the abortion pill, RU-486, has "donated" its patent rights to the abortion advocacy organization, the Population Council. The National Right to Life Committee, joined by several other national pro-life organizations - including the Southern Baptist Christian Life Commission, Focus on the Family, the Christian Coalition, Family Research Council, and Concerned Women For America - launched a consumer boycott of products made by Roussel Uclaf's subsidiaries. The consumer boycott will be focused on two of Roussel Uclaf's subsidiaries - Hoechst-Roussel Pharmaceuticals and Copley Pharmaceuticals. While a complete list of consumer boycotted products is available from the MCCL state office, the boycotted products include: A/T/S (erythromycin topical), Claforan, Lasix, and Bromatapp tablets. Safe, effective substitutes are available for all the boycotted products. (The October MCCL News will carry further information.)

AGI Report Says Abortions Are Declining

The Alan Guttmacher Institute, the research arm of Planned Parenthood Federation of America, the nation's largest abortion promoter and provider, released a study that revealed that the annual number of abortions in the U.S. peaked in 1990 and has declined slightly since then. There were 1,529,000 abortions in 1992, a 5% drop from an estimated 1,608,600 abortions performed in 1990. In media reports, even pro-abortion activists acknowledged that pro-life educational activities have had a direct impact. While encouraged by the apparent drop of nearly 80,000 abortions, National Right To Life Federal Legislative Director Douglas Johnson warned that the "modest reduction will be reversed if Congress approves President Clinton's proposal to require universal and unlimited availability of abortion through a national health plan."

Posten Forces Immediate Tax Funding of Abortion

On June 16, 1994, state district Judge William Posten ruled that Minnesota's law that protected taxpayers' money from being used for abortion unconstitutional under the state constitution. (See MCCL News, June/July 1994) When the State decided to appeal, they asked Judge Posten to stay his decision forcing taxpayers to pay for abortion until the appeal was decided by the Minnesota Supreme Court. On July 5, 1994, Judge Posten refused and required Minnesota to immediately begin funding abortion on demand for low income women on medical assistance.

35 Democrats Sign Letter Opposing Abortion Coverage

35 House Democrats sent a letter to House Speaker Tom Foley that opposes "any [health care] reform legislation that does not explicitly exclude abortion from the scope of any government-defined, government-mandated, or government-funded health benefits package." According to Douglas Johnson, federal legislative director for the National Right to Life Committee, there are at least a dozen other House Democrats who oppose the inclusion of abortion in any national health care reform package. Minnesota Representative Collin Peterson signed the letter. However, two pro-life Minnesota Democrats, Representative Penny and Representative Oberstar, did not sign the letter. Please contact Reps. Penny and Oberstar and ask them to sign the letter.

Kevorkian Initiative Drive Fails

Earlier this year, Jack Kevorkian launched a petition drive to put an initiative on the November ballot to legalize physician assisted suicide. However, by the middle of June, Kevorkian and his supporters were approximately 80,000 signatures short. Kevorkian has said that he will now focus on placing the referendum on the 1996 November ballot.

Pro-life Victory in Poland

Recently, Poland's legislature narrowly passed pro-abortion legislation to allow abortion for financial or family hardship. Currently, Poland's law allows for abortion only in the cases of life or health of the woman, when the unborn child is "irreparably damaged," or if the pregnancy is the result of a crime. Polish President Lech Walesa vetoed the more permissive abortion legislation, saying, "Since it would violate the basic right to life enshrined in our constitution, I, as president of Poland, cannot sign it. No economic reasons can legalize an attempt against a human life, and especially not the personal conditions of a woman because it is impossible to assess objectively."

New Study Urges Pain Killers During Fetal Surgery

A group of British medical researchers found that unborn children who had needles inserted into their abdomen displayed a biochemical reaction which lead the researchers to conclude that the unborn child "found the event stressful." While the study did not conclude that the unborn children felt pain, the study did recommend that doctors should administer pain killers when performing fetal surgery and "possibly also for the Rest in peace

On behalf of all MCCLers, MCCL News extends deep sympathy to Ruby and Tom Kubista and their family on the death of their 20-year-old daughter Mary and 18-year-old son Stephen who were recently killed in a car accident.

An active pro-life family, Ruby Kubista has served MCCL for many years in a variety of capacities first as a volunteer then as staff. Hundreds of Minnesota pro-lifers are indebted to her for bringing them into the pro-life movement through her precinct caucus organizing and as organizer of the first massive voter ID project in the country (MCCL's Citizen Action Project). She received a special award at the 1978 MCCL convention for her faithful work in defending life.

All the while she has juggled her pro-life work with the responsibilities of raising a family of 10 children. Her husband, Tom, and her children help in the pro-life cause. Mary spent two summers working for MCCL and volunteered extensively for the organization. Stephen also volunteered his time.

Mary and Stephen were working this summer as combine operators in farmers' fields to earn money for college. Mary died instantly and Stephen was fatally injured when their car was involved in an accident on a foggy highway in southern Minnesota. Stephen died five days later at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester.

Both Mary and Stephen were honor students and outstanding athletes in high school, and they were described by the St. Paul Pioneer Press as "... among the best-respected students in the history of St. Agnes High School."

Preceded in death by a baby sister, they are survived by their parents Ruby and Tom Kubista of Eagan; sisters Catherine and Joan; and brothers Frank, Tom, Paul, Joe and Peter. Please keep them all in your prayers.

termination of pregnancy, especially by surgical techniques involving dismemberment." National Right to Life Committee President Dr. Wanda Franz commented, "We've always argued that there's every reason to believe fetuses feel pain." She called the study, "meaningful" and "important."

MCCL State Convention:

"Life . . . The First Right!"

Rep. Henry Hyde

Mary Jane Owen

Dr. Richard Fenigsen

Headlined by dynamic pro-life congressional leader Rep. Henry Hyde from Illinois, Mary Jane Owen, national spokesperson for people with disabilities, and Richard Fenigsen, M.D., renowned medical ethicist and philosopher, the annual MCCL convention will draw pro-lifers together from across the state for a weekend of education and fellowship.

Rep. Hyde will speak at the Friday night kickoff session and Mary Jane Owen will be the Saturday banquet speaker. Featured in a special general session on euthanasia will be Dr. Richard Fenigsen who practiced medicine in the Netherlands and fought against the Dutch euthanasia policies. He has written and lectured extensively on the euthanasia issue. A variety of seminars will be offered and extensive educational resources will be featured.

Convention to feature student track

In an effort to help young pro-lifers who meet special challenges because of their pro-life commitment, a separate seminar track geared especially toward students will be offered as part of the convention.

All pro-lifers are encouraged to attend this unique educational event. (There are no convention delegates, and no official business is transacted.) The weekend is devoted entirely to increasing participants' knowledge of and effectiveness in the pro-life movement.

Further details and registration information will appear in the October MCCL News and are also available from the MCCL office (612) 825-6831.

Where do the Candidates for Governor Stand?

In the IR Primary...

☒ Allen Quist

- ★ Quist has pledged to support legal protection for the lives of unborn babies.
- ★ Quist opposes using your tax dollars to fund abortion.
- ★ Quist supports the right of parents to be notified before a minor's abortion.
- ★ Quist received MCCL's Outstanding Pro-Life Legislator Award (1987).

☐ Arne Carlson

- Carlson's position allows abortion for any reason, even as a method of birth control, even as late as the 6th month of pregnancy. (Twin Cities Reader 2/14/90)
- Carlson's administration encouraged legislators to reverse their votes on the pro-life Woman's Right to Know bill to save him from a pro-abortion veto.
- Carlson would veto legislation requiring informed consent for women who undergo abortions.

In the DFL Primary...

☒ Mike Hatch

- ★ Hatch has taken the most pro-life stand of any candidate in the DFL Primary.
- ★ As Governor, he would oppose the inclusion of abortion in any state health care plan and would oppose state tax funding of abortion.
- ★ Hatch supports the Woman's Right to Know bill which would ensure informed consent for women before undergoing an abortion.
- ★ Hatch supports the right of parents to be notified before a minor's abortion.

☐ Tony Bouza

- Bouza has called Roe v. Wade "the most effective crime-control device undertaken in the nation in the last 40 or 50 years."
- Bouza states that "Abortion should be available equally to all."
- Bouza characterizes himself as "unalterably pro-choice."

☐ John Marty

- Marty was the chief author of a bill to repeal Minnesota's parental notice law which allows parents to be notified before a minor's abortion.
- Marty states that as governor, he would be a leader in protecting women's "reproductive rights."
- Marty is a co-author of the radical Freedom of Choice Act.

IR Primary

- ☒ Allen Quist is endorsed in the IR Primary by MCCL's Committee for State Pro-Life Candidates.

DFL Primary

- ☒ Mike Hatch is recommended in the DFL Primary by MCCL's Committee for State Pro-Life Candidates.

THE MOST IMPORTANT REASON TO VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8th . . .

There are now more than 4300 abortions every day in America, and each abortion takes the life of a living human child. Most Americans think this is a tragedy. Unfortunately, many members of Congress don't.

In the last session of Congress legislation was proposed to fund essentially every abortion in America with tax dollars and require that abortion clinics be set up in communities where there are none. That legislation has been stopped . . . for now.

Pro-abortion advocates have vowed to push their deadly agenda again in the next Congress. How we vote now will determine whether the next Congress stands for life . . . or death.

And one vote does make a difference. Several major pieces of legislation passed in the last Congress by only one vote!

That's why your vote this year for U.S. Senate may be the most important you have ever cast.

Rod Grams has had the courage to stand up for the children and against abortion on demand. If Rod Grams wins then unborn children can win. But if Rod Grams loses then many, many children may lose . . . forever. Compare the candidates and vote for life on Tuesday, November 8th. One vote really can be a matter of life or death.

For U.S. Senate

☒ ROD GRAMS

- ★ Rod Grams has a 100% pro-life voting record in Congress.
- ★ Rod Grams voted against using your tax dollars for abortion.
- ★ Rod Grams voted to have a parent notified before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.
- ★ Rod Grams opposes the inclusion of abortion in any national health plan.
- ★ Rod Grams is endorsed by Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life Committee for a Pro-Life Congress and the National Right to Life PAC.

☐ ANN WYNIA

- Ann Wynia has an extreme pro-abortion voting record in the Minnesota legislature (1976 - 1989).
- Ann Wynia voted in the state legislature to pay for abortions with your state tax dollars.
- Ann Wynia even voted against requiring that parents be given notice before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.
- Ann Wynia supports a national health care plan that would fund essentially every abortion in America and require every working American to have abortion coverage as part of their health insurance. That plan would also require the creation of new abortion clinics in many communities such as St. Cloud where there are none now.

U.S. Senate and House candidates answer survey

Every election year since 1972, MCCL has polled those seeking to represent Minnesotans in public office on their attitudes toward the life issues. The survey is an effort to help inform citizens so they can better participate in the democratic process by basing judgments on factual information about candidates' stands, rather than relying on hearsay or rumor.

Candidates for the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives answered these questions, with the accompanying explanations:

1. Do you support allowing states to enact and enforce Pennsylvania-type regulations, such as mandatory right-to-know laws, mandatory waiting periods, and parental consent requirements?

In its 1992 decision in Casey v. Planned Parenthood, the U.S. Supreme Court reaffirmed the "core holdings" of Roe v. Wade, but modified Roe somewhat to permit states to adopt abortion regulations that do not place any "substantial obstacle" in the path of a woman seeking an abortion. Regulations allowed by the Supreme Court to date include parental notification and consent, woman's right to know and waiting periods.

2. Will you vote against the "Freedom of Choice Act" — and any similar proposals that would limit state authority to place such restrictions on abortion as are permitted by the Supreme Court?

The so-called "Freedom of Choice Act" (FOCA) would invalidate virtually all state limitations on abortion, even those upheld by the Supreme Court in its 1992 Casey decision. As the respected Congressional Quarterly Weekly Report reported in its December 11, 1993 edition, "Among the most controversial provisions [of the FOCA] are those that would prohibit restrictions on third-trimester abortions, overturn several states' requirements that teenagers obtain the consent of one or both parents before having an abortion and prohibit 24-hour waiting periods."

3. If given the opportunity would you vote in favor of the original Hyde Amendment, in order to prohibit federal funding of abortion, except to save the mother's life?

Prior to 1977, the Medicaid program paid for abortion on demand — 300,000 a year. Since 1977, Congress has prohibited funding for almost all abortions by annual enactment of the "Hyde Amendment." From 1981 until 1993, the Hyde Amendment permitted federal funding of abortion only to save the mother's life. As modified in 1993, funding is also permitted in cases of rape or incest.

4. Would you vote in favor of denying U.S. foreign aid funds for abortions, and for organizations that promote abortion in foreign nations?

The U.S. has always been the largest financial donor to family planning programs in less-developed nations.

Under the Reagan and Bush administrations, these funds were channeled away from several large organizations that "actively promote abortion as a method of family planning" or that support programs that rely on compulsory abortion (such as China's population-control program). However, the Clinton Administration has overturned these pro-life restrictions, and has restored funding to organizations that promote abortion as a method of population control.

5. Would you vote to explicitly eliminate abortion from any list of "standard benefits" — whether defined by Congress, a "National Health Board," or any other federal agency — under a national health plan?

President Clinton has asked Congress to include abortion on demand as a "guaranteed benefit" under his proposed national health system. This would nullify all current federal and state restrictions on tax funding of abortion on demand and force employers and taxpayers to pay for abortions. MCCL advocates that Congress explicitly exclude abortion from any government-mandated "benefits package" under the Clinton plan or any other national health plan.

6. Will you oppose the Clinton health plan or any other proposed plan that would allow the denial of treatment based on whether or not it will "enhance the quality of life" of the patient?

Under the Clinton health care bill, health plans would effectively allow the denial of treatment when, in the words of the First Lady, it will not "enhance or save the quality of life." MCCL opposes discriminatory targeting of the disabled, the elderly, and the chronically ill for the withdrawing or withholding of treatment based on someone else's determination that the patient's "quality of life" is not satisfactory.

7. Do you oppose rationing of lifesaving medical treatment as a means of cost control?

Today, some people feel that other priorities are more important than lifesaving medical care and that we should ration health care in order to cut costs. The pro-life movement has always opposed euthanasia as well as abortion and infanticide. We regard the rationing of lifesaving medical treatment as a form of involuntary euthanasia.

8. Will you defend the First Amendment rights of issue-oriented groups, such as National Right to Life PAC, to continue to conduct "independent expenditure" campaigns that support or oppose candidates for federal office, and will you oppose devices such as government-mandated "compensation" that would chill or curb political free speech by citizens and citizen groups?

Current federal law allows an organization that advocates a point of view on particular issues — for example, abortion — to form a political action committee. The courts have ruled that such PACs may conduct unlimited "independent expenditures" in support of (or opposition to) candidates for federal office. However, major "campaign reform" bills under consideration in Congress attempt to evade these court rulings by attaching penalties to the use of independent expenditures — for example, by giving publicly-funded TV time to the opponents of candidates who are supported by independent expenditures, as well as to candidates who are opposed by independent expenditures. Such devices would chill or curb the political free speech of citizens and citizen groups.

Pro-Life Leaders Seeking Important U.S. Offices

Three of Minnesota's outstanding legislative voices for life are seeking important federal offices in the Nov. 8 general election.

Rod Grams, Tad Jude and Gil Gutknecht, each of whom has been a leader on the pro-life issue in Congress or in the state legislature, will be in a position to affect some critical pro-life issues if elected.

With the Presidency and Supreme Court currently in the hands of pro-abortion supporters, control of Congress becomes decisive on issues such as abortion funding and health care rationing.

Rod Grams

Because of successes in primary elections earlier this year, pro-life forces have an opportunity to gain critically needed seats in both houses of Congress. But to do so, we will first have to retain seats presently held by pro-lifers. Grams, Gutknecht and Jude are vying for those seats in Minnesota.

Rod Grams is the Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, running against extreme pro-abortion opponent Ann Wynn. Grams currently represents the suburban sixth congressional district in the U.S. House, where he has compiled a 100 percent pro-life voting record. He has voted to preserve the Hyde Amendment, which bans federal funding of most abortions, and has spoken eloquently against the Clinton health care rationing plan. Wynn was a pro-abortion leader in the Minnesota House of Representatives, voting against the abortion funding ban, against parental notification and against protection from post-viability abortions.

"The tragedy of abortion is the clearest example of decay in American societal values today," Grams told MCCL News. "Perhaps I'm old fashioned, but I do not believe there are no absolutes. There is right and there is wrong, and abortion is wrong." Grams and his wife, Laurel, have four children and three grandchildren.

Tad Jude, a longtime pro-life leader in several elective offices, is running for the sixth district congressional seat being vacated by Grams. Jude authored the Fetal Homicide bill and co-authored the Parental Notification Act when he served in the Minnesota Senate and House from 1972 to 1988. As a Hennepin County Commissioner, he also fought to keep abortion out of the county hospital and abortion coverage out of county employees' insurance.

Jude believes that "children are our greatest and most precious resource. Society should do everything in its power to nurture and protect the lives of its children, both before and after birth." Tad and his wife, Gail, have six children.

Jude's opponent is Bill Luther, a state senator who represents Brooklyn Park. However, because Brooklyn Park is not in the sixth congressional district, Luther also claims an Oakdale address. Luther has compiled a strongly pro-abortion voting record in his 20 years in the state legislature. Among other things, he has voted to gut Minnesota's Parental Notification law, to kill the proposed ban on birth control abortions, to pay for abortions with tax dollars and against the Woman's Right to Know bill. He also co-sponsored a bill (SF574) which would have allowed abortion for any reason, even as late as the sixth month of pregnancy.

Another open congressional seat currently held by the pro-life side is the first congressional district in southeastern Minnesota. Here, Gil Gutknecht, a longtime floor leader and spokesman for life in the Minnesota House of Representatives, faces pro-abortion state Senator John Hottinger. Hottinger has one of the most radical pro-abortion voting records in the state senate. He voted for the sweeping Minnesota Freedom of Choice Act, voted against an amendment to keep abortion funding out of MinnesotaCare, voted to destroy the Parental Notice law, voted against Woman's Right to Know, and offered an amendment to gut Minnesota's prohibition on assisted suicide activities like those of Jack Kevorkian.

Gil Gutknecht, who is from Rochester, was influenced in his pro-life viewpoint by famed Mayo Clinic geneticist Dr. Hymie Gordon. "The ability to observe and even treat the unborn should be proof to everyone that they are human beings who deserve our protection," Gutknecht said. "And that same protection also needs to be extended to our elderly population and the disabled." Gutknecht and his wife, Mary, have three children.

These legislators have each used their influence to be leaders in the defense of life, and are now attempting to move up to higher office. Their pro-abortion opponents are present or former officeholders who are also trying to move up.

The lesson for pro-lifers is that it is important to elect people with pro-life beliefs to every office, from city councilman to President of the United States. Not only do people in these lower offices often have an opportunity to cast votes that can save lives, but they serve as a natural base of likely candidates for higher office. When we elect someone with pro-life or anti-life views to any office, we are choosing someone who may one day have a tremendous amount of power in choosing whether unborn children live or die.

Gil Gutknecht

Tad Jude

State House candidates give views on life issues

The September MCCL News contained responses of candidates running in the September 13 primary election to an MCCL survey dealing with abortion and other life issues facing public officials. This issue presents an updated poll, with responses of those who survived primary challenges and who will face off in the November 8 general election.

MCCL was able to contact some of the candidates who didn't respond in time for the September issue, and their answers are included here. Also, after having issues explained more fully, some candidates have revised their responses. So, even if you checked your candidates' positions in the September issue, be sure to consult this updated version before November 8.

Candidates were told that answers would be classified as Yes, No, or No Response and that space would not allow printing of comments. However, all comments are kept on file at the MCCL state office.

Candidates were asked the following questions. A short explanation follows each question.

1. Would you vote for a law that would prevent the use of abortion as a means of birth control?

Abortion is being used extensively as a method of birth control. This means it is used for the same reasons one would employ other means of birth control, such as contraceptives or natural family planning — to limit or space children, to avoid interference with a career or education, or any of a variety of other motives which involve the desire to avoid having any child at a particular time.

These children's lives could be saved with legislation to prevent the use of abortion for birth control reasons. For purposes of clarity and enforceability, such abortions would be defined as those not done to preserve the life of the mother, in cases of rape and incest, grave health damage to the mother, or serious disability to the child.

[This question was not meant to imply that MCCL is willing to allow these latter types of abortions. It was designed simply to determine the candidate's position on legislation preventing abortions for birth control reasons.]

2. Would you vote against any attempt to pass the so-called "Freedom of Choice" Act?

The Freedom of Choice Act would, for the first time, write a radical pro-abortion position into Minnesota statute and preclude any reasonable regulations of abortion. If passed, this legislation would make Minnesota abortion law one of the most extreme in the country.

3. Would you vote against any attempt to weaken or rescind the Minnesota legislation passed in 1981 which provides for notification of parents before a minor is given an abortion?

The Minnesota Parental Notification law was passed by large margins in the Minnesota legislature in 1981. Under the law, both parents have a right to be notified if their minor daughter wishes to have an abortion. A judicial bypass exists for minors to get a judge's approval to not inform her parents.

Efforts to weaken the law have included informing other "trusted adults" and not the parents; and limiting notification to a single parent, even though both parents remain responsible if the child is injured in the procedure.

4. Would you vote for an MCCL-sponsored "informed consent" law requiring that doctors provide women with information on the development of the unborn child, alternatives to abortion, and medical risks of abortion before an abortion can be performed?

Informed consent protects the rights of women by assuring them the level of informed consent that would be their right if they underwent any other medical procedure. MCCL will continue to work to pass this legislation.

5. Would you vote against any attempt to weaken or rescind the Minnesota law passed in 1978 which prevents the use of government funding for abortion other than to prevent the death of the mother, when the pregnancy is the result of forcible rape (reported to law enforcement agencies within 2 days), or when the pregnancy of a minor is the result of incest (with the perpetrator reported to law enforcement agencies)?

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that the use of public funds for abortions is not constitutionally required. In 1978, an MCCL-supported bill to restrict the use of state funds for abortions received overwhelming approval.

The Minnesota law was successfully challenged by pro-abortion advocates in 1993 in the state courts. Pending appeal, the law is not in force.

6. Would you vote to exclude abortion from any list of "standard benefits" whether defined by the legislature, a health commissioner, or any state agency under a state health plan?

The Minnesota Legislature is currently working on a state health care plan. The MinnesotaCare bill, as it is called, calls for the same minimum package of health care benefits for all residents. Unfortunately, pro-abortion groups such as Planned Parenthood are actively lobbying to include abortion as a mandated benefit in this minimum package of benefits.

7. Would you vote against any attempt to weaken or rescind the Minnesota law passed in 1992 which includes assisting suicide or attempted suicide among prohibited practices and authorizes disciplinary action for physicians and other health care professionals? The law also allows relatives or others affected by an attempted suicide or completed suicide, as well as public officials, to sue the person who "assists" for money damages.

In 1992 the Minnesota Legislature passed a bill to tighten state law against assisted suicide. The law makes it clear that the public policy of the state is to discourage suicide and to prevent health care professionals from assisting in it.

3. Do you oppose rationing of life-saving medical treatment as a means of cost control?

During past sessions, the Minnesota Legislature has passed bills setting up a state health care plan. As currently written, the MinnesotaCare program could ration needed health care by covering only treatment that is "necessary" and "appropriate." This policy may discriminate against the disabled, the elderly, and the chronically ill for the withdrawing or withholding of treatment based on someone else's determination that the person's "quality of life" is not satisfactory.

Response Key

Y — YES

N — NO

U — UNDECIDED

C — COMMENTS — gave an answer qualified by comments indicating the answer was dependent upon certain conditions.

NC — NO CLEAR YES OR NO — replied to the entire questionnaire or to questions so designated with comments; did not answer "yes" or "no" to the question.

NR — NO RESPONSE — did not respond to the questionnaire, did not respond to the question so designated, or informed MCCL by letter or phone that he or she chose not to respond.

Vote Tuesday, Nov. 8

Poll is educational service

Following are responses of candidates for the Minnesota Legislature. You are represented by one state senator and one House member. This year only House members are being elected except for two special elections in the Senate which are listed first.

If you don't know your legislative district numbers, call your local city hall or county courthouse (see page 8 for phone numbers). In the November 8 general election, you may vote for whichever candidates you wish, regardless of party affiliation.

See page 4 for Response Key.

Whether or not you want your memorial published, MCCL will send an acknowledgment of your donation to the family of those you are remembering or to those you are honoring.)

MCCL News

Published monthly by MCCL, Inc., 1001 N. 1st Avenue, Minneapolis, MN 55401, (612) 592-6633.

MCCL was incorporated in 1981 to serve the Minnesota pro-life community. Our purpose is to engage in public policy, legislative, educational, and research activities and projects. These include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. To promote and foster pro-life activities and social responsibility for human life.
2. To foster and increase participation of the right of life of mother and child.
3. To inform the public on abortion and related subjects.
4. To foster high standards of education in the state of Minnesota.
5. To promote and encourage adoption.
6. To foster the care and protection of children with birth defects.
7. To promote, encourage, and assist in adoption, counseling, and related programs.
8. To coordinate public relations, press releases, and public information.
9. To coordinate the production and distribution of materials.

These are the purposes of MCCL, Inc. Nothing in this Newsletter, nor any other publication, should be construed as supporting or opposing any candidate for public office.

Twenty-second Anniversary of Roe v. Wade

MCCL MARCH FOR LIFE

January 22, 1995
State Capitol, 2 PM
Mark your calendar now

Your vote counts!

The General Election is Tuesday, November 8.

In the words of British statesman Edmund Burke, "All that is necessary for evil to triumph is for good men to do nothing."

These words are often quoted, but they take on new importance as these crucial elections draw near. If good pro-life men and women do not participate in the democratic process, the evil of abortion will surely triumph.

Please exercise your right and your responsibility to vote on November 8.

by Leo LaLonde
MCCL President

Your vote can make the difference

The easiest, simplest thing a pro-life person can do to save lives is to vote. It doesn't cost any money, takes very little time, and involves no stress or demands on a person. But shockingly, each year millions of Americans don't even go to the polls.

Your vote counts! In one legislative race in the September primary, voters awoke to read that the pro-life candidate had lost to his pro-abortion opponent by a single vote! (A recount later increased the margin to a still-slim five votes).

Often, pro-lifers have won the close elections, because of our dedication to the cause and because we understand that each and every election is important.

Look what we've been able to accomplish even in the hostile environment of a pro-abortion Clinton presidency.

Because we won a few close Senate and House races in 1992, pro-life forces were able to defeat the Freedom of Choice Act, the Clinton health care rationing plan, and preserve the Hyde Amendment. Defeat on any one of these measures would have resulted in tens of thousands of additional deaths immediately, with the numbers surely to grow in the future. Those lives were saved because we worked together to get others to vote for pro-life candidates and then worked together to lobby to preserve pro-life policies.

Once again, the key will be to get other pro-lifers to go out to the polls. Persons reading this will vote (I trust!) but our job is to make sure that every pro-lifer we know also gets to the polls. Tell your friends, family and neighbors about the importance their vote has in saving lives. Call MCCL and volunteer to make get-out-the-vote phone calls to pro-life homes just before election day on behalf of MCCL's political committee.

There are so many ways you can contribute not only your own pro-life vote, but those of many others. It's the most gratifying work imaginable because it's work that saves lives.

Tell your friends, family and neighbors about the importance their vote has in saving lives.

Health Care Reform Dead . . . For Now

National health care reform is dead for the 1994 legislative year, but the fight is far from over. Pro-life people in Minnesota will face an especially difficult challenge in 1995. Not only will we be facing a fight over the inclusion of abortion and rationing in a federal health care reform bill, the fight will come home to Minnesota.

Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell announced on September 26 that federal health care reform is dead for this year. President Clinton responded to the announcement by promising to renew his fight for health care reform in 1995, saying, "This journey is far, far from over."

Pro-life people need to be aware and vigilant in the coming year. We can expect new measures to be introduced next year that will contain the same anti-life measures that were contained in the Clinton bill. Pro-life citizens must commit themselves to removing abortion and rationing from any health care reform bill that is introduced, and must work to make their voices heard, not only in Washington, D.C., but also in St. Paul.

Debate will resume on MinnesotaCare (the state health care reform proposal) during the 1995 legislative session. As would happen on the federal level, the inclusion of abortion in a mandated benefits package in MinnesotaCare would lead to tax-funded abortion on request and a vast expansion of the abortion industry. Pro-abortion groups in Minnesota are committed to seeing abortion included in a federal health care bill, and will be no less committed to seeing abortion included in a state health care reform bill. In a letter to the Minnesota congressional delegation, pro-abortion advocates Planned Parenthood, Minnesota NARAL, Pro-Choice Resources and Midwest Women's Health Center wrote, "Being pro-choice means more than giving the nod to Roe v. Wade. It means working to make abortion available and accessible (financially and geographically) to all women who need it . . . Making abortion part of 'mainstream' health care will mean there are more providers."

Minnesota Health Commissioner Mary Jo O'Brien and the Minnesota Health Care Commission are now meeting to determine which services will be included in the mandated basic benefits package. Be assured that pro-abortion groups will do all that they can to ensure that abortion will be included in this package. Planned Parenthood of Minnesota surveyed candidates for state legislative office and asked them if they would vote to include "all pregnancy related services, including birth control and legal abortion services" in the basic benefits package of health care reform. It is essential that all pro-life people work together to prevent the inclusion of abortion.

MinnesotaCare also poses several dangers in the area of health care rationing. Tight price controls and other stifling measures will reduce the amount of treatment available in the long run, inevitably leading to a rationing of health care. Rationing of health care would endanger society's most vulnerable, including the elderly, people with disabilities, the premature and the terminally ill.

The deadly measures contained in both the state and federal health care reform bills call on all pro-life citizens to speak out in defense of the most helpless and vulnerable in our society who would be at the greatest risk under such plans. Future issues of MCCL News will contain more information and details on the issue of health care on both the state and federal level.

Major Study Offers Upbeat Portrait of Adoption

By William Pierce, Ph.D., President
National Council for Adoption

Pro-lifers have several reasons to be interested in Growing Up Adopted: A Portrait of Adolescents & Their Families. This study, the largest ever done of adoptive families in the United States, was conducted over a four year period by a Minnesota research institute.

The research, supported by $1 million in federal funding, is consistent with the findings of several large, carefully designed studies. The Minnesota research also contradicts the negative findings of 25 previous, smaller, and less carefully designed reports and provides some very practical guidelines for those who may be in the position of recommending adoption to women facing crisis pregnancies.

First, the good news about adopted adolescents: they turn out as well as the non-adopted children in their families, and much better than a comparable national sample of non-adopted, public school adolescents. By "turning out well," the study means:

- they become "independent and free of others" and establish their "own identity and distinctiveness" (p.16)
- 86% say, "I'm glad I was born" (p. 17)
- they have higher self-esteem than the non-adopted adolescents (p. 18)
- adopted kids got a higher degree of support from most of the significant people in their lives than their non-adopted siblings (p. 20)
- girls—and even more so, boys—found that being adopted was "easy" for them (p. 24) and that it made "no difference" in their lives (p. 25)

Considering the coverage on talk shows of some birth mothers expressing concern about how their children are doing, it's not surprising that the majority of adolescents—but even more so, girls—expressed a desire to meet their biological parents (p. 27). The reasons are predictable, and three would be of particular interest to those counseling pregnant women. For those wanting a meeting, here's why:

- 1) they want to tell them, "I am happy"
- 2) they want to tell them, "I'm OK"
- 3) they want to tell them, "I'm glad to be alive" (p.26)

Adopted adolescents also feel close to their adoptive parents. There is no statistical difference in the high level of closeness felt by adopted adolescents and their non-adopted siblings (p. 32).

The study also finds that the closer adopted adolescents feel to their parents, the fewer "at-risk behaviors" they are involved in (p. 34). An important, and positive, distinction—especially significant, given the large number of minority children and babies needing to be adopted—is that trans-racially adopted adolescents are closest of all to their parents (p. 35).

Adopted youth do as well as their brothers and sisters when we control for family demographics and family dynamics by comparing adopted adolescents to non-adopted siblings in the same families

The attitudes of adoptive parents are similar: 95% report feeling "deep attachment to my child" (p. 36). For those who are wondering how fathers do, they attach almost as well as mothers (p. 37).

But children and families do better when the infant was placed before one month of age (p. 38).

The research also points to the likelihood that nurture—the way children are raised—has more to do with who they are than nature—genes. In terms of interests, values, and personality, when adopted adolescents are compared to their non-adopted siblings, "there is no significant difference in perceived similarity" (p. 40).

It is worth headlining the key finding: "Adopted youth do as well as their brothers and sisters when we control for family demographics and family dynamics by comparing adopted adolescents to non-adopted siblings in the same families" (p. 66).

What do we mean by "doing well"? By nearly 50% more, adopted adolescents place "high personal value on helping other people" compared to their non-adopted siblings and the national sample of non-adopted, public school adolescents (p. 67).

The study, over and over, documents significant differences between attitudes and characteristics of adopted boys and girls. But in terms of risk-taking behaviors, there are no differences between boys and girls, such as exists with the public school comparison sample (p. 73).

Indeed, on four items, adopted adolescents 12-15 were less than half as likely to be involved as their public school peers: binge drinking, frequent use of illicit drugs, sexual activity, and police trouble (p. 72).

What emerges from this study is that when adoption agencies carefully screen couples, prepare them for adoption, and are there as resources, the children (and their parents) do extraordinarily well. The children are happy they were adopted, are loving, above average in their performance, and mentally healthy. The parents are stable, loving, and very happy they adopted.

It's true that adopted children are more likely to receive mental health services, but it's not because they are more mentally unhealthy (p. 80). Rather it's because (among other things) their middle-class parents are comfortable turning to "professional helpers" in times of stress.

The lessons of Growing Up Adopted: A Portrait of Adolescents & Their Parents are important for everyone—whether one is working with pregnant women and explaining how adoption works well for children, or whether one is encouraging parents to step out in faith and adopt a waiting child of another race.

CONVENTION HEADLINERS - Dynamic pro-life congressional leader Representative Henry Hyde; Mary Jane Owen, longtime advocate for people with disabilities; and Dutch physician Dr. Richard Fenigsen, who has vigorously opposed that country's euthanasia policies, will lead a list of outstanding participants at the MCCL state convention November 18-19 at the Sheraton Park Place Hotel in St. Louis Park.

Representative Hyde will speak at the Friday kick-off session at 8 p.m. All pro-lifers are encouraged to attend, whether or not they can participate in other convention activities. The event is free and open to the public.

Dr. Fenigsen will be featured at a general session on Saturday and Mary Jane Owen will address guests at the banquet set for 6:30 p.m. that evening. A number of other exciting speakers will participate in workshops and general sessions during the day on Saturday and a variety of audio-visual and educational materials will be displayed. A special track for students will also be offered.

This year's convention theme is "Life... the First Right," a reminder that our other rights, as important as they are, are non-existent if we don't have a basic right to life.

Please send in the convention registration as soon as possible, since space is limited. For additional convention information, see the October MCCL News, or call MCCL at (612)825-6831.

THE MOST IMPORTANT REASON TO VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8th . . .

America is at a crossroads on the issue of life and death for millions of its unborn children. Radical pro-abortion groups want the U.S. Congress to vote to force you and your employer to pay for all abortions, to require that abortion clinics be set up in communities where there are none, and to fund deadly experiments on unborn children. Your vote can determine whether they succeed. This year your vote really is a matter of life or death!

For U.S. Senate

☒ ROD GRAMS

- ★ Rod Grams has a 100% pro-life voting record in Congress.
- ★ Rod Grams voted against using your tax dollars for abortion.
- ★ Rod Grams voted to have a parent notified before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.
- ★ Rod Grams opposes the inclusion of abortion in any national health plan.
- ★ Rod Grams is endorsed by Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life Committee for a Pro-Life Congress and the National Right to Life PAC.

☐ ANN WYNIA

- Ann Wynia has an extreme pro-abortion voting record in the Minnesota legislature (1976 - 1989).
- Ann Wynia voted in the state legislature to pay for abortions with your state tax dollars.
- Ann Wynia even voted against requiring that parents be given notice before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.
- Ann Wynia supports a national health care plan that would fund essentially every abortion in America and require every working American to have abortion coverage as part of their health insurance. That plan would also require the creation of new abortion clinics in many communities such as St. Cloud where there are none now.

Do you want new abortion clinics set up in communities where there are none today?

The next congress will decide.

Before you vote here are the facts about Ann Wynia's extreme pro-abortion position.

Wynia voted to pay for abortion-on-demand with your tax dollars.

Wynia voted against requiring that parents be given notice before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.

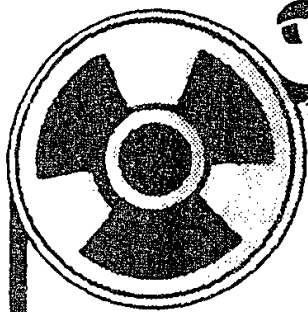

Wynia supports a national health care plan that would fund essentially all abortions and even require creation of new abortion clinics in many communities where there are none now.

Wynia's radical pro-abortion position is out-of-step with the majority of Minnesotans.

DID YOU KNOW?

- The heart of the unborn child starts beating at three weeks.
- Brain waves can be measured at 6 weeks.
- All body systems are present at 8 weeks, and ultrasound films have shown unborn babies sucking their thumbs at this time.
- Over 4,000 abortions are performed every day in this country.
- Over 40% of all abortions are repeat abortions.

Abortion stops a beating heart 4000 times a day.....

If you had a chance to act to save the life of a child, would you do it?

Every day in America, over 4,400 unborn babies are sentenced to death by our current laws and leaders. Along with abortion has come less respect for life and marked increases in crime and child abuse.

On Tuesday, Sept. 13th, you can help change these laws and save human lives. Your vote in the IR primary will help elect pro-life officials who will work to protect innocent human life.

IN THE IR PRIMARY ELECTION FOR GOVERNOR

☒ ALLEN QUIST

- ★ Has pledged to support legal protection for the lives of unborn babies.
- ★ Opposes using your tax dollars to fund abortion.
- ★ Supports the right of parents to be notified before a minor's abortion.
- ★ Received MCCL's Outstanding Pro-Life Legislator Award (1987).

☐ ARNE CARLSON

- Carlson's position allows abortion for any reason, even as a method of birth control, even as late as the 6th month of pregnancy. (Twin Cities Reader 2/14/90)
- Carlson's administration encouraged legislators to reverse their votes on the pro-life Woman's Right to Know bill to save him from a pro-abortion veto.
- Carlson would veto legislation requiring informed consent for women who undergo abortions.

REPUBLICANS, DEMOCRATS AND INDEPENDENTS . . . All can participate in this important primary election contest by voting in the IR Primary, September 13th. You do not have to declare any party affiliation before entering the voting booth. Remember to vote only on the IR side of the ballot (or it will not be counted at all).

Your vote in the Primary is CRUCIAL!

Your vote in the primary election on Tuesday, September 13th, will have the impact of several votes since it is expected that less than half of the eligible voters will go to the polls. Don't pass up this unique chance you have to speak out for the unborn child.

Not authorized by any candidate.

THE MOST IMPORTANT REASON TO VOTE TUES., NOV. 8th . . .

America is at a crossroads on the issue of life and death for millions of its unborn children. Radical pro-abortion groups want the U.S. Congress to vote to force you and your employer to pay for all abortions, to require that abortion clinics be set up in communities where there are none, and to fund deadly experiments on unborn children. Your vote can determine whether they succeed. This year your vote really is a matter of life or death!

FOR CONGRESS DISTRICT 1

☒ GIL GUTKNECHT

- ★ Supports legal protection for the lives of unborn children.
- ★ Supports notification of parents before an abortion is performed on minor girls.
- ★ Opposes using your tax dollars to fund abortions.
- ★ Supports positive and caring alternatives such as adoption to help mothers and their children.
- ★ Gil Gutknecht is endorsed by MCCL's Committee for a Pro-Life Congress and the National Right to Life PAC.

☐ JOHN HOTTINGER

- John Hottinger has an extreme pro-abortion voting record in the Minnesota legislature.
- John Hottinger voted against an amendment to keep abortion funding out of MinnCare (the Minnesota health care plan).
- John Hottinger voted to weaken Minnesota's law requiring that parents be notified before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.

- Ann Wynia voted in the Minnesota legislature to pay for abortions with your state tax dollars.
- Ann Wynia even voted against requiring that parents be given notice before an abortion is performed on their minor daughters.
- Ann Wynia supports a national health care plan that would fund essentially every abortion in America and require every working American to have abortion coverage as part of their health insurance. That plan would also require the creation of new abortion clinics in many communities such as St. Cloud where there are none now.

U.S. SENATE
TUESDAY, NOV. 8

THE MOST IMPORTANT REASON TO VOTE TUES., NOV. 8th . . .

America is at a crossroads on the issue of life and death for millions of its unborn children. Radical pro-abortion groups want the U.S. Congress to vote to force you and your employer to pay for all abortions, to require that abortion clinics be set up in communities where there are none, and to fund deadly experiments on unborn children. Your vote can determine whether they succeed. This year your vote really is a matter of life or death!

FOR U.S. SENATE

ROD GRAMS

- ★ Rod Grams has a 100% pro-life voting record in Congress.
- ★ Rod Grams voted against using your tax dollars for abortion.
- ★ Rod Grams voted to have a parent notified before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.
- ★ Rod Grams opposes the inclusion of abortion in any national health plan.
- ★ Rod Grams is endorsed by Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life Committee for a Pro-Life Congress and the National Right to Life PAC.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT REASON TO VOTE TUES., NOV. 8th . . .

Radical pro-abortion groups are trying to take control of the Minnesota Legislature. Soon your elected officials will be deciding whether or not to fund essentially every abortion in Minnesota with your tax dollars and health care premiums. How you vote now will determine whether the Minnesota legislature stands for life . . . or death.

HOUSE DISTRICT 47B

DON KRAMER

- ★ Supports legal protection for the lives of unborn children.
- ★ Supports notification of parents before an abortion is performed on their minor daughter.
- ★ Opposes using your tax dollars to fund abortions.
- ★ Supported by Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life Committee for State Pro-Life Candidates.

PHIL CARRUTHERS

- Voted against a 1994 bill which would have required informed consent before women undergo abortion.
- Voted against an amendment to keep abortion funding out of MinnCare (the Minnesota health care plan).
- Did not respond to any questions on abortion, parental notification or taxpayer funding of abortion in the Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life state legislative questionnaire on abortion.

RE: MUR 3774

Dear Mr. Hensarling:

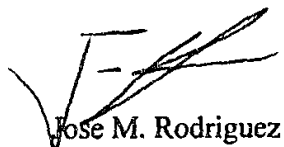

I have been attempting in the past several days to contact you by telephone regarding your March 21, 1997 response to the Commission's Subpoena and Order. Upon review, it appears that several of the responses submitted require clarification or additional information in accordance with the instructions to the Subpoena and Order. Specifically, please note if any responsive documents are being withheld based on any of the "General Objections" raised in your response. If so, please provide a list of these documents, describing the document by date, sender and recipient, and general subject matter.

Also describe in detail the efforts undertaken to comply with the Subpoena and Order, including the identification (by title, custodian and location) of all files searched for responsive documents and the identification (by current name, address, phone number and employer) of all individuals contacted in responding to the interrogatories and document requests. To the extent that other entities or individuals may possess responsive documents, please identify these sources by current name, address, phone number and employer.

Last, please provide current addresses, phone numbers and employment information for the various individuals listed in response to the interrogatories.

We request that you provide this information within five days of receipt of this letter. Should you have any questions, please contact me at (202) 219-3690.

Sincerely,

Jose M. Rodriguez
Attorney
